

Pedagogical patterns of PBL at 1. semester

Invitation to seminar
Friday, 23rd of August 2019, 13.00 – 15.30

While it is mandatory for all educational programmes at AAU to introduce new students to Problem Based Learning, it is also clear that the format and organisation of this teaching and learning activity is different across AAU. Among other things, this concerns the prominence of the introductory PBL course in relation to other course activities at the 1. semester, the format of the exam and the relation between the course and the project.

The overarching goal of this seminar is to share practices of introducing PBL to the new students across the educational programs – what could be described as pedagogical patterns of PBL at 1. semester. Based in presentations from colleagues from different educational programs, the PBL Academy wish to ignite a discussion on pedagogical patterns of PBL at 1. Semester.
